Gentlemen:

Under separate cover I am sending you a coin that I wish you to examine and to let me know the origin,
age, and possible value.

Please return the coin to me insured, and I will gladly reimburse you.

Thanking you for your kind interest, I remain

Sincerely yours,

Max Reiter

Mr. Max Reiter
Mesa, Arizona.

Dear Sir:

The gold piece you sent on is not a coin but a talisman made in Germany during the past 200 years. These come in all sizes from less than one-half inch to over $1.00 size and are made in brass, silver and gold. They are sold by jewellers for good luck pieces to officers and seamen. Your piece has no especial value and in fact is worth no more than the gold content. As per your instructions we are returning it by parcel post insured and please remit to us the postage on the package.

Very truly yours,
